

Lakeland

shopping online

Shopping online is great: it's quick and safe and you're in control.

Browse the website, or search for something specific, and click 'add to basket' to buy the products you want. When you've finished shopping, click 'checkout' and log in to our secure servers to complete your order. That's it!

For more detailed instructions, please see the how to use this website section.

Our products

Our aim is to provide you with good quality, innovative products that improve your life. We're always on the look out for things that make the kitchen a pleasant and inspiring place to be; the dinner table exciting and varied; the home easy to keep clean and tidy. And we love finding fun and unusual products to use in the garden or when out and about, exciting craft and card-making projects, as well as cracking gift ideas for Christmas, birthdays and weddings. We sell a huge variety of products - have a good look through our website and you're sure to find something you simply must have!

Tried and tested

Each product is thoroughly tested before being sold: it's got to do what it was designed for, and do it well! This involves hours of cutting, blending, kneading, cooking, eating and general fiddling about with every single potential product. If we like it - and think you will too - we'll add it to our range.

Product availability

We try hard to make sure all of our current products are available. Despite our best efforts, they're occasionally unavailable. If this is the case, we'll let you know when you order.

Some products are temporarily out of stock but can still be ordered; we'll send them to you when they come in, post-free.

We monitor our products closely and if something isn't up to scratch we withdraw it. We'll let you know if this happens.

product information

We specify to all our food suppliers that ingredients be GM free. However, we find it difficult, especially when soya products are involved, to guarantee that all our food products are GM free.

If you want to know whether a product contains nuts or gluten, please contact us for the latest information.