Cast announced for GOOD PEOPLE

ERT is delighted to announce that Joy Brook will be joined by Misha Duncan-Barry, Michael Kinsey, Rory Murray, Janet Prince and Nada Sharp in our upcoming production of Good People, written by Pulitzer prize winner David Lindsay-Abaire and directed by Adrian Rawlins.

Who's Who in Good People?

Joy Brook (Emmerdale, Eastenders, The Bill) will take on the role of sharp-tongued Margie. Janet Prince (Great Expectations, Murder, Margaret and Me at ERT) plays raucous landlady Dottie. Completing the cast, Nada Sharp plays Margie's best friend Jean - the "Mouthie from Southie", Michael Kinsey plays Bingo-loving Stevie, and Rory Murray is the old flame who has moved to a more affluent area of Boston with his younger wife Kate, played by Misha Duncan-Barry.
