Comedy Drama Set for Chaotic Hull Debut

The Play That Goes Wrong comes to the city for one week only

Following a sell-out nationwide tour in 2017 the multi-award winning The Play That Goes Wrong brings chaos to the Hull New Theatre stage this May.

Recently crowned Broadwayâ€™s longest running show and still packing in audiences in Londonâ€™s West End, The Play That Goes Wrong is a highly physical comedy packed with finely-tuned farce and Buster Keaton inspired slapstick delivered with split-second timing and ambitious daring. The play introduces The â€˜Cornley Polytechnic Drama Societyâ€™ who are attempting to put on a 1920sâ€™ murder mystery, but as the title suggests, everything that can go wrongâ€¦ does, as the accident prone thespians battle on against all the odds to get to their final curtain call.

Co-written by Mischief Theatre company members Henry Lewis, Jonathan Sayer and Henry Shields, â€˜The Playâ€™ started its life at a London fringe venue with only four paying members of the public at the first performance, and has since played to an audience of almost one and a half million worldwide.

Tickets for The Play That Goes Wrong at Hull New Theatre from 21 -26 May are on sale now. Book via the Hull City Hall Box Office, call 01482 300 306 or visit our new website www.hulltheatres.co.uk.
