Mixed Golf Week

New golf event looks to put East Riding on course for 2020 boost

A new golf event designed to attract golfers to East Yorkshire will tee off at courses between Monday, 18 to Friday, 22 May 2020, with entry forms now available.

The East Yorkshire Mixed Golf Week 2020, which is supported by East Riding of Yorkshire Council, is open to mixed couples and will take place at four local courses – in Brough, Cottingham Parks, Hessle and Kirk Ella.

There will be four rounds of mixed betterball golf, using the stableford system, taking place at:

Hessle Golf Course, Monday, 18 May 2020, from 9am

Brough Golf Course, Tuesday, 19 May 2020, from 9am

Hull Golf Course (Kirk Ella), Thursday, 21 May 2020, from 9am

Cottingham Parks Golf and Leisure, Friday, 22 May 2020, from 9am

The cost to compete is only Â£170 per person, and included in the price is a round of golf followed by a meal each day and prizes for daily winners plus overall winners on the week.

Competitors from further afield are encouraged to check www.visithullandeastyorkshire.com to find fantastic local hotels during the 5-day event.

Councillor Shaun Horton, portfolio holder for tourism, culture and leisure at East Riding of Yorkshire Council, said: “We are pleased to help welcome this exciting golfing event to the region next May.

“Spread around four courses, it will be a wonderful boost to the local economy and it will put local golf on the map, with the hope that East Yorkshire courses are seen, internationally, as a great setting for the sport.”

Entry forms can be requested and submitted, either by post or email, from Andy Woodhead at adwoodhead1964@outlook.com and entries will be officially accepted upon receipt of the completed form and full payment of the entry fee.

For specific information about the week, along with terms and conditions, are available from any of the four courses
